GOALS AND OBJECTIVES: In consultation with your placement organization supervisor, identify the responsibilities expected of you during your field study. In addition, list the academic learning goals and objectives you will accomplish in this placement. Explain how your work responsibilities will provide opportunities for meeting these learning goals and increase your understanding of social justice work. Setting these goals and objectives in advance of the field study will create mutual understanding between you and your supervisor that is essential to a mutually satisfying and rewarding experience.

A. Expected responsibilities (please be as specific as possible):

B. Skills or competencies you wish to develop (e.g. public speaking, advocacy and organizing, website design):

C. Knowledge you wish to gain about social justice work in the areas of health and/or economic justice that will be a basis for your field study research questions.
