

Guidelines for the Community Studies Field Study Scholarship

Purpose:

Thanks to a generous donation by the Koffend family as well as Community Studies alumni, family and friends who have contributed to our Giving Day Campaigns, we are able to provide scholarships to support Community Studies students going on field study.

Amount to be awarded:

The Community Studies Field Study Scholarship will provide up to a total of 10 $500 scholarships.

Who is eligible?

Any Community Studies major is eligible. Although financial need is a factor in the decision process for awarding the Scholarship, demonstrated financial need is not an absolute requirement.

Application deadline:

By 3pm on FRIDAY, May 10, 2019. Submit to Community Studies Program Office, Oakes 213.

When is the money available?

Scholarships will be announced by May 24, 2019. The scholarship must be used for a Summer/Fall 2019 field study. Awardees will be expected to submit a brief final report for the scholarship committee upon the completion of their internship.

What can the money be used for?

The money can be used to help pay for any costs associated with a field study or internship except rent and food at typical Santa Cruz levels. Examples might include but are not limited to: travel expenses related to a field study or for getting to the location, film, supplies, equipment (such as cameras, recorders, computers, software), materials you expect to use (like art supplies, pencils, notebooks). Extraordinary living expenses associated with a field study may be considered.

What are the selection criteria?

The decision will be made by a committee composed of Community Studies faculty and staff. We will be looking for well thought-out proposals that relate the field study to the student's more general educational goals. Students should be in good academic standing and have a specific proposal for how they will spend the money. Though financial need is one consideration (see Eligibility), it is not the sole consideration.

To whom can I direct questions about this scholarship?

Please contact Veronica Lopez-Duran, Oakes 213, vlopez1@ucsc.edu, 459-2371.
